Practical – 6

Exploring Issue Management and some other features from the Software Project Management Software:

Github.com:

Github has following features which are very useful-

-> Code where all files of repository are stored.

-> Issues when someone raises a problem in the files of repository along with some tags which are very useful to identify and sort the issues.

-> Pull requests help you collaborate on code with other people. As pull requests are created, they'll appear here in a searchable and filterable list.

-> Actions are place where we can connect our repository to various platforms and integrate it. For eg. Deploy a Django project, publish python package, deploy web app using Azure, etc.

-> Security as name suggest, gives more control of repository and control the security.

-> Insights is where we can see entire overview of repository with different features as shown below.

-> Setting is where it will give more control of repository to the user.
